PREFACE.

THE present volume contains a Catalogue of the 'Adversaria' preserved in the Cambridge University Library, or of all printed books containing MS. notes or additions, as well as of the Collectanea and Note-books of Scholars, which have been omitted in the general catalogue of MSS., in order that they might be brought together, and their contents described in the way most convenient for scholars to make use of them. With this view, the descriptions of a few of these volumes have been repeated here, which have already appeared in the general catalogue: such for instance as Stanley's Collections for a new edition of Æschylus, his notes on Callimachus, and the two or three printed books that have already been described. But of such books as the Adversaria of Alexander Ros, the note books of Castell, Edward Leigh, De Mayerne, &c., which are more of the nature of distinct MSS., it has not been thought necessary to repeat the description. All the printed books in the Library, however, as far as they have been ascertained, which contain MS.

notes, whether by known Scholars, or anonymous, are described in the following pages.

It is needless to point out how valuable such catalogues as the present must be: the bringing within every one's reach the knowledge of what the Library contains in a critical point of view—so as, as it were, to bring before all Scholars the critical apparatus it possesses for new editions of the works annotated, must be regarded of very great use and importance; and I cannot but express a hope that other libraries may be induced to follow the example now given.

The greatest portion of the Adversaria here described, consist of the books annotated by John Taylor, Peter Paul Dobree, and Godfrey Hermann. The first were obtained at the sale of Dr Askew, to whom they had been left by Taylor¹; the second were left to the University by the author himself at his death in 1825; and the last were bought at Hermann's sale. The sources whence others were obtained has been mentioned in all cases when known, in the Catalogue.

The description of nearly the whole of the Adversaria on Classical Books is due to Mr CHURCHILL BABINGTON, of St John's College: for the rest the Editor is responsible.

H. R. LUARD.

A Commentary on ÆSCHYLUS, by THOMAS STANLEY, in eight volumes folio.

These notes are written by Stanley in the margins and in blank leaves at the end of his edition of Æschylus, printed by Flesher (Lond. 1663). They are incorporated into Butler's edition. See his preface, p. v.

Gg. III. 15.

A thick small folio, on paper, of 421 leaves, many of which are blank, or nearly so.

THOMÆ STANLEII 'ADVERSARIA.'

The authors illustrated and emendated are enumerated on the reverse of the first leaf: viz. Sophocles, Euripides, Stephanus (De Urbibus), Juvenalis, Persius, Achilles Tatius, Longus, Parthenius, Zenobius, Theocritus, Antigonius, Carystius, Aristides, Theophrastus (Charact.), Hesychius, and the Etymologicon Magnum. In this volume are also contained fragments of Euripides and Sophocles omitted by Meursius. The volume is in Stanley's own hand.

The volume is in Stanley's own hand. For a notice of all these MSS. see Rose, Biogr. Dict. Vol. xii. p. 102.

Nn. I. 1—3.

MS. notes on SUIDAS, by JOHN TAYLOR, LL.D., Fellow of St John's College, Cambridge, (entered in the margin of Kuster's edition, Cambr. 1705).

Four sheets only of Taylor's labours on Suidas were printed: his work was advertised at the end of his Lysias, in 1741. See Nichols' Lit. Anec. Vol. iv. p. 508. This and the other MSS. of Dr Taylor, which the Publick Library now contains, came from Askew's sale in 1785; and were purchased for the University by Dr Farmer. With this partial exception, none of his Adversaria appear to have been published; his notes on Suidas were certainly unknown to Gaisford. See his preface, p. xlviii. Reiske indeed printed some rough notes of Taylor on the Greek orators sent to him by Askew. See Nichols, Lit. Anec. Vol. iv. p. 664.

The present work is marked n 282 in Askew's sale catalogue (Bibliotheca Askeviana manuscripta. Lond. 1785).

Nn. I. 4.

MS. notes of JOSHUA BARNES inserted in a copy of the Poetæ Græci Principes heroici carminis et alii nonnulli. (1566, H. Steph.)

At the beginning occur these notes:

'Sum e libris Gervasii Needham Etonensis Coll. quondam alumni ex dono Philippi Fell ejusdem Coll. socii.' (Note cancelled.)

'Josuæ Barnes liber sum à prædicto Gervasio Needham datus et viginti duobus solidis emptus. 1691.'

The notes on Homer are (in part at least) incorporated into Barnes' edition. Of the notes of Barnes on Theocritus, probably substantially the same as those contained in this volume, which were lent to Warton by Farmer, Warton says 'nulli tamen mihi in hoc opere adjumento fuere'. (pref. to Theocritus, p. xvii.) The volume contains the book-plate of Peter Foulkes, D.D. 1724.

From Askew's sale, n. 245.

Nn. II. 32.

Various readings and Scholia on ÆSCHYLUS, taken from different MSS. The tracts bound up in the volume are by several hands in the xviiith and xixth centuries, and are of various sizes.

The principal contents are as follows:

(1). 'Scholia ex MSS. libris collecta in Æschyli tragedias tres; Prometheum; Septem apud Thebas; Persas. Accesserunt his emendationes quamplurimæ in eisdem Tragedias, quibus antiquissimus poeta mirifice illustratur, cum antea depravatissime circumferretur.' (8 leaves quarto, apparently of the xviiith century.)

The second page begins thus: Typographus Lectori S. D. Franciscus Robortellus, Utinensis, cujus doctrina singularis, &c., the epistle being dated Lutetiæ, 1549.

The emendations are stated to have been partly obtained from Robortello and partly from L. Castelvetro of Modena. The Scholia (afterwards published by Robortello in 1552) are not included in this MS., which though prepared for the press seems not to have been printed, or if printed, to be unknown to bibliographers.

(2). 'Æschylus ex editione Henrici Stephani, anno 1557, collatus cum codice Mediceo, quo Petrus Victorius usus est.' (20 leaves quarto.)

At the end is the following note.

'Hanc Æschyli collationem cum optimo codice Laurentianæ Mediceæ Bibliothecæ....in gratiam docti viri Petri Nehidam (sic) confecit mense Octobri A.S. 1715, Antonius Maria Salvinus Græcarum litterarum publicus in academia Florentina professor.'

Underneath which is written, 'Recept. Nov. 3, 1715, Pet. Needham.'

(3). Collations of various MSS. in the libraries of Paris and Leyden, (various sizes, xviiith century,) viz.:

(a). Codex Regius 3320. Prometheus; Septem contra Thebas; Persæ.

(b). Codex Regius 3330. Prometheus; Septem contra Thebas; Persæ.

(c). Codex Regius 3521. Prometheus; Septem contra Thebas; Persæ; Eumenides; Supplices; and a transcript of Αἰσχύλου βίος, the variations of the preceding MS. being there noticed.

(f). Codex Regius 3320 (2); a different collation of a different MS. Prometheus; Septem contra Thebas; Persæ.

(g). Codex Bibl. Leyd. num. 23. Scholia.

(h). Codex Bibl. Leyd. num. 81, 51 and 23. Prometheus.

For their ages and contents see the last leaf. From this place forwards the collations and transcripts are in the hand of John Walker.

(i). Collation of a MS. in the Bibl. Reg. Paris, entered in 1652 in the margin of the Aldine edition (1518), in the same library. Prometheus; Septem contra Thebas; Persæ; Eumenides; Supplices.

(k). Other various readings from the margins of another copy of the same edition. Persæ, Agamemnon.

(l). Conjectures of Joseph Scaliger on all the plays of Æschylus entered in a copy of the edition of 1557, purchased by G. Voss. Bibl. Leyd. num. 217. Some of the conjectures are supposed by Walker to be in the hand of Voss.

(m). A letter (imperfect) dated Paris, Dec. 12, 1719, in the handwriting of John Walker, Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, to Needham, who was contemplating an edition of Æschylus: beginning,

Dear Dr. I receiv'd your kind letter dated from Cambridge the 5th of November with a great deal of pleasure.

From these materials it is manifest that Nn. i. 16 was drawn up by Needham; and from the table of contents of that MS. some light is shed on the history of the various parts of this volume.

This collection was used by Butler for his edition of Æschylus (see Vol. viii. p. v.), as well as Needham's abstract of it.

The notes on some of the authors (as Homer and Hesiod) are extremely scanty: on others, as Theocritus and Orpheus, more plentiful.

Warton (pref. to his Theocritus, p. ix. note, Oxf. 1770) says of Casaubon's notes on Theocritus in this volume: 'Nihil inveni quod non esset in ejus lectionibus Theocriteis.....Memorat eundem librum Cl. Then follows a duplicate of the title on which is written: 'Cest Aristophanes avec la version, commentaires, et annotations peut bien estre imprimé, sous le bon plaisir de Messieurs, Gaspar Laurens a present Recteur.' [Gaspard Laurent was rector of the University of Geneva in 1600.]

The edition of Æmilius Portus (Genev. 1607) who used the autograph of Bisetus, comprises also the scholia of Christianus, Gerardus, Andreas Divus, and Burdinus. The notes of Frischlinus on Aristophanes are also printed. See the preface to Kuster's edition for remarks on some of these.

The whole of the printed books in this class having MS. notes, and also the note-books, were bequeathed to the University by the late Professor Dobree, whose wishes and directions respecting them may be seen in the clause of his will, which is inserted in the catalogue of his books and MSS. made by Dr Hollingworth in 1826. From these his successor, the late Professor Scholefield, drew up 'Petri Pauli Dobree, A.M. Græcarum literarum nuper Professoris Regii Adversaria,' printed at Cambridge, in two volumes, 1831—1833, which was followed by 'Miscellaneous Notes on Inscriptions by the late Professor Dobree,' (taken from his MS. notes on printed books and from other papers,) 'with some Addenda to his Adversaria' (1835). Professor Scholefield observes (Præf. p. viii.), 'Quæ autem vel ipse semel scripta postea repudiaverat, vel ab aliis omni ex parte occupata reperi, vel minus utilia futura judicavi, ea plerumque omnia omisi;' and again in the preface to the Miscellaneous Notes, 'Having examined all the books and papers of the late Professor, which have come into the possession of the University, he (the Editor) believes that nothing has been omitted of sufficient importance to justify a complaint on the ground of deficiency.' A brief comparison, however, of Dobree's MSS. and notes will shew that Professor Scholefield has made no selection at all from some of Dobree's books, and but a very partial one from others. Thus Dobree's marginal notes on Montfaucon's Bibliotheca Coisliniana are not noticed at all. The notes on Homer's Iliad (Dobr. Adv. Vol. II. pp. 3—5) are taken from various scraps of paper which are inserted in Pp. VII. 41, the notes entered in Villoison's edition (Pp. I. 1), principally referring to the Scholia, being omitted altogether. The marginal notes entered in Duker's edition of Thucydides (Pp. I. 5) are only partially used. Under these circumstances this general reference to the work of Professor Scholefield will be sufficient. Whatever of Dobree's MS. notes has been printed will, it is believed, be found there.

Note-books on Classical Authors, by P. P. DOBREE, of various sizes, some of which are more or less blank: in most of them rough notes on slips of paper are inserted, and some volumes (as Pp. vii. 4, 5) are made up of such notes entirely. The important parts of these (as well as of the marginal notes on printed books) are included in DOBREE'S Adversaria. (See above, Pp. i. 1.) The contents* of the volumes are approximately as follows:

2 and 3. Aristophanica.

4. Ad Scenicos.

Includes notes on fragments of the Greek dramatists, as well as on extant Plays.

5. Ad Euripidem.

6. Ad Athenæum, Stobæum, Epicharmum, Platonem.

13. Ad Lysiam, Isocratem, et Isæum.

14—23. Demosthenica.

25. Hellenica.

26. Attica.

27, 8. Fasti.

Contain various collations of MSS. made for Dobree.

32. Inscriptiones.

33. Calligraphia (i. e. additions to the plates of Hodgkin's Calligraphia Græca.)

34. Hemsterhusiana.

The notes are principally on Demosthenes and Aristophanes.

35. Porsoniana.

The contents of the volume are thus enumerated at p. 33 :

‘Ad Herodotum, Platonem, Hesychium, Etymol., Eustath., Mærin, Gregor., Cor., Timæum, Suidam.’

There are, however, a few notes on other authors (Scholiasts, Cicero, &c.), on the last five leaves.

This and the preceding are transcripts of Hemsterhuis’ and Porson’s marginal notes on printed books, most of which are in the Library of Trinity College.

36. Transcript of a MS. Gr. Lexicon ‘è MS. Seguer,’ entitled ἄλλος ἀλφάβητος.
